From the Director

There is no end to the ways Mayor Harriet Rosenthal will go to support the Deerfield community, including the promotion of library services and resources. We were so lucky to be able to tap her energy and enthusiasm for the cover photo during a busy and demanding time.

Mayor Rosenthal has served Deerfield as an elected official for 36 years, starting with six terms as a Village trustee. She was first elected mayor in 2009, serving three terms. Her continued dedication to service has contributed to the growth and quality of life in Deerfield. Also, the Mayor is a living encyclopedia of Deerfield history, process and procedures, and residents past and present. Her institutional knowledge, as well as her kindness, creativity, and good humor will be sorely missed.

As Mayor Rosenthal says, “What a Deal!”

Need we point out how much money you save by checking out the latest books, movies, and music from the library? Physical or digital, it’s here for you. As seen on the cover, here are a few popular library resources you might not know about:

Consumer Reports: Access articles from the web version of the popular magazine. Compare ratings for cars, computers, mattresses, and more before your next purchase.

Mobile Hotspot: Not everybody has easy access to robust internet connectivity. This strong Wi-Fi connector will provide support for school, business, and entertainment.

Typewriter: Time travel back, way back, through the magic of the unplugged keyboard experience. Fun for all ages.

Ukelele: Bring live music into your home with this wonderful instrument and instruction book. It’s easy, light-weight, and sounds like a smile.

You can find all of these items in the DPL catalog. Consumer Reports can be found at deerfieldlibrary.org/online-resources. For the other items listed above, type “Library of Things” in the catalog search box followed by the item name or just start scrolling. Also, feel free to call or email staff for assistance accessing all these special resources.

This is just a nibble of the cornucopia of FREE offerings available to you at the Library. All you need is your Deerfield Public Library card. The smartest card in your wallet (or on your cell phone).

Amy Falasz-Peterson, Library Director
